

Digitech Systems Announces Integration with Microsoft® SharePoint

Expands integration opportunities for customers of PaperVision® Enterprise

Boston, MA (AIIM 2008, Booth 2457) - March 4, 2008 - Digitech Systems announced today the availability of built-in integration from PaperVision Enterprise to Microsoft Office SharePoint Server (MOSS). This integration builds on the strengths of each manufacturer to provide full-featured Enterprise Content Management (ECM).

PaperVision Enterprise allows companies to securely manage information to improve business efficiency. MOSS is a portal offered by Microsoft that supplies basic ECM, collaboration, and enterprise search functions. As a Gold Certified Microsoft Partner, Digitech Systems has built upon the strengths of PaperVision Enterprise and MOSS to enhance ECM for the enterprise. When used together, these complimentary technologies allow businesses even greater control over corporate information management by enhancing basic SharePoint file sharing and data management functions with the sophisticated data security and workflow for which Digitech Systems is known. All functionality is delivered to users through the familiar Internet Explorer environment.

Benefits of the SharePoint Integration

The integration between Digitech Systems and SharePoint offers users the ability to view PaperVision Enterprise search criteria, search results and workflow details directly from their SharePoint portal.

"The integration between PaperVision Enterprise and SharePoint provides SharePoint customers with a powerful and proven document management solution. Resellers of SharePoint can provide their customers with tried and true document management functionality, while existing ECM resellers can now grow their business by tapping into the enormous SharePoint installed base ."
