

SpringCM Honored as One of "KMWorld 100 Companies That Matter in Knowledge Management"

February 27, 2008 - SAN MATEO, CA Veteran SaaS Content Management Vendor Recognized as Industry Leader

SpringCM, the leader in on-demand enterprise content management (ECM) solutions, today announced it has been named as one of the "100 Companies That Matter in Knowledge Management" by KMWorld, a leading industry publication. The listing recognizes companies that have helped to define, improve or represent the knowledge management market.

"Our evaluators have carefully selected companies that possess the types of solutions, ideas and services that make significant contributions in knowledge management," said Hugh McKeller, editor-in-chief of KMWorld. "These companies have distinguished themselves as leaders in the knowledge management space and we honor their continued efforts to deliver ground-breaking innovations to expand the growth and success of knowledge workers."

SpringCM provides an intuitive platform for the development of collaboration and document-based applications. It effectively adapts traditionally complex and inflexible document management processes to an on-demand model, enabling even small and medium-sized organizations and departments to streamline information sharing processes at low cost, with minimal risk and capital investment. The SpringCM SaaS-based architecture enables it to achieve quick user adoption, and to easily interoperate with existing systems.

The eighth annual KMWorld list of 100 Companies That Matter in Knowledge Management was compiled by a comprehensive team of theorists, KM practitioners, vendors, colleagues, analysts and customers.

"We feel very privileged to receive this award from KMWorld that recognizes SpringCM as a leader in this space," said Dan Carmel, chief executive officer at SpringCM. "This achievement further validates our unique market position, as well as our commitment to delivering the most comprehensive document management and workflow solutions in an on-demand model."
